

How To Create Money Out Of Thin Air
A Free Job Alternative

If you are in possession of this report, you have the right to resell it for any amount you see fit.

So you need some extra money or money period and fast! Maybe you want to stay home with the kids and make some extra money for the household and help your husband out. Maybe you are going to college and you need to start earning to have money to live on or to put away to start paying back the loan quickly. Maybe you are retired. Maybe you are disabled or a vet on Social Security.

You've probably had a look around the internet and also your "real" life and you've come to the conclusion that either you need a real job, or a home job in order to make money or you just need money to start with and that's not feasible right now.

But who wants a job or a home job really? A lot of us still depend on jobs as the main source of income, but in order to make extra money we would like to do something other than take an extra job and wouldn't it be wonderful to do something "job like" and have our own schedule for a change!

Perhaps you are like I was years ago and you've looked for a job and haven't found one and you are desperate to make ends meet.

I know you feel the same way or you wouldn't have bought this report.

Jobs are fine as far as they go, a steady income to pay the bills and we all know where we stand. But they just take up far too much of our time!

Like me you have decided that there must be another way to make some extra money. Maybe you just want the luxuries that your present income just won't stretch to.

If you've had a look at any methods of raising money on the internet you will probably have come to the realization that almost all of them require some degree of investment from you to get started.

Whether it's a relatively small amount (like for example google adword fees) or it's a major investment like buying an existing online business, or anything in between, you will nearly always have to fork out cash to get started.

But what if I showed you an exact method of generating money on the internet that didn't require any money at all to get started. Would you give it a go?

I certainly hope so because that's just what I'm about to reveal to you.

On the next page is the "secret" to your future success. OK it's hardly a secret because thousands of people are already doing it to make full time incomes and even wealth beyond that. The whole secret is revealed in a single word...

...can you guess what it is?

Write!

Yes that is the secret of your success - you just need to write.

Now at this point some people reading this might be slightly disappointed that that's all there is to it. The reason is because you're used to being bombarded with mountains of hype and pie in the sky rubbish that will never work for you, or you are looking for an "instant" solution that you don't need to work at.

I'll tell you this for nothing my friend, it doesn't exist. Sorry, but that's the truth. Sure there are ways that you can obtain businesses that will generate cash for you from day one without you having to lift a finger.

Unfortunately for all of us they are anything but free! Such a business will cost you hundreds or more likely thousands of dollars, so for the time being you will just have to accept the fact that if you want to create an income with literally no investment on your part, you will need to put in a bit of work to do it.

It's time to get realistic! This DOES work - but you need to put in the effort to make it work.

The great beauty of the system that I am about to show you is that it is almost scientifically scaleable. What I mean by that rather grand phrase is simply that the more effort you put into it, the more money you will make.

Yes, this really is true.

For maybe the first time in your life you now have a choice, you can actually choose what size of income you are prepared to generate for yourself.

And there is a very simple formula to convert your writing to hard cash, without any investment on your part. Here it is:

1. Find a product to promote.
2. Become an affiliate for the product.
3. Write articles showing the benefits of the product.
4. Put your affiliate link at the bottom of your articles.
5. Submit your articles to as many article sites as you can.

I'LL TELL YOU EXACTLY WHAT TO DO AND HOW IT WORKS

These article sites generate large amounts of traffic. People will see your article and if you write an interesting title they will want to read the article.

When you have pointed out the benefits of the product you are describing some of them will want more information on the product and click on your link.

You will get credited with introducing that prospect to the site and you will be paid a commission if the prospect decides to buy the product or use the services of the site.

These commissions vary greatly depending on what the product is that you are promoting, but they start at under $10 and go up into the hundreds of dollars per sale.

The remainder of this report expands on this concept in detail and there's a few more details in there too, but if you want to get a quick start and get earning in the shortest possible time, the next section has a "Quick Start Guide" to get you off and running.

"Quick Start Guide"

OK so you're in a hurry to make money!

Here's how to get off and running and start making your first paychecks.

Step 1

Go to Clickbank and register for a free membership. You will be asked to provide a user name (nickname) which you will use when you are creating your affiliate links. Don't worry if you don't understand all of that just yet, it will become clear in a minute.

Step 2

Once you have your ClickBank nickname, go to the Clickbank Marketplace (just click this link) and when you find a product you would like to promote, click on the commission percentage. You will be prompted for your ClickBank nickname and your link code will be generated for you. (Clickbank call their links "hoplinks").

Your hoplink will look something like this:

<http://YOURNAME.PRODUCT.hop.clickbank.net>

Where YOURNAME is the nickname that you've chosen and PRODUCT is the product you are promoting. This is your affiliate link for that product. All products at Clickbank use this link format.

Step 3

Read the sales page and find out all about the product. Make a list of all the benefits that it has, i.e. all the ways that it can solve the problem or improve the user's life. If it is a subject you know about so much the better, if not read more about it online or use Amazon's Search

Inside feature to read inside some of the books on your subject at Amazon.com.

Step 4

Now write a short article of between 350 - 500 words based around the benefits that the product has.

This is a very powerful step and should not be underestimated. This small section alone is the true "secret" of how you will make money using this system.

Hardly anyone is writing articles this way so yours will get far more attention as they will stand out from a lot of the dross at some of the article sites.

For example, take these two styles of article which are on the same subject:

ARTICLE 1 - 10 Things That Stop Your Kids Getting A Good Night's Sleep.

This article simply lists ten different things like background noise, eating late at night, a troubled conscience etc. It's not very inspiring and it's main purpose is to be distributed and get links back to the author's own website.

ARTICLE 2 - The Amazing Hidden Health Benefits of a Good Night's Sleep For Your Kids.

This article is entirely different in it's approach. The purpose of the article is to help the reader and provide valuable information on the positive benefits of the reader's kids getting a good night's sleep. The article shows that the author has a knowledge of the subject by giving good information away for free, and builds up confidence in the reader.

This is important for the next step.

Step 5

Now that you have written your article, you need to write an "Author Resource Box" which will appear under your article. This is where you put your Clickbank affiliate hoplink that you created in Step 2.

The type of resource box that often works best is short and to the point. You can have 4 - 5 lines but don't fill up the space with waffle, that will only cause the reader to click away. Instead something like "For another nine hidden benefits of a good night's sleep for your kids Click Here" encourages the reader to take action and visit the Clickbank site that you are promoting.

Now here's where you will win against most of the other articles out there. You have already given your reader valuable information and instilled a sense of trust in them. They want to know more about how they can help their children and you have just shown them that you have the answers. They will want to click your link to find out what else you have to offer.

Step 6

Sign up for a free account at as many article distribution sites as you can and submit your article.

The following list is by no means comprehensive - there are hundreds more article sites but the main ones are all in it.

That's all there is to the Quick Start method. You should see your articles appear on some of the sites instantly, others will manually approve the articles before including them.

Note that a very small number of these sites don't allow affiliate links in your signature, so beware of their terms and conditions.

See the section "Making Your Operation a Bit More Professional" for how to approach this issue.

What's Next?

You should check back again at all the sites which have article statistics on them and see how many times your article has been viewed and downloaded. (Not all article sites will have this information available).

Experiment with different headlines for your articles and check the results on your stats page. This will give you an indication as to which headline worked better. Then you can use this information when you come to write your next articles.

You should see commissions coming in from your article within a week or two. Now that sounds vague as of course it has to be, there are so many variables that I couldn't possibly be any more precise.

The factors affecting your earnings are:

- Your subject matter
- The value of your information
- How well you engage your reader
- The quality of your writing
- The saturation of the subject you are writing about
- The number of people interested in the subject

Any one of these can have a massive effect on your bottom line, so think what kind of difference to your earnings all of them working together can make.

The main thing is that you will eventually see some money coming in, whether it is $10 for one affiliate sale or $500 for ten $50 sales. And to an extent it doesn't really matter which!

This must sound absolutely NUTS to you but just take a moment to think what you have done. You have spent a bit of time - but no cash at all - in creating an article, which you have then submitted to a few sites and you've made money in affiliate commissions from it.

What you have in effect done is create an income stream, an money making model. You can now duplicate this model as often as you want, forever!

Do you see the power of what you have just done? You've literally created an income out of nothing that can be repeated over and over again. The more articles you write and submit, the more money you will make.

OK some of your articles will do better than others but the more you write the more the income will average out. What I mean by that is you might make $50 from your first article then $20 from your next one. At this stage you have no idea how much to expect to earn from your third article.

But if you write 100 articles and make $2500, you can expect to make around $2500 for the next hundred articles. The bigger the number of articles submitted the better idea you have of the average profit per article.

Making Your Operation a Bit More Professional

When you have made your first couple of sales and you have, say, $50 in profit, it is a good idea to get your own domain name and hosting. There are free hosting services around but these are always supported by advertising and are subject to unguaranteed uptime, meaning you could lose sales by your free site being down more than up.

The other main problem with any free solution is how long the service is going to be available for. The last thing you want is to go to the trouble of writing lots of articles and getting them distributed across the internet, only for your free hosting service to disappear. You will be left with links that don't go anywhere and all your efforts will be in vain.

So it is well worth getting your own domain name and setting up redirects to each of the products you are promoting. These give a very professional impression of your site and will encourage people to click the link with confidence.

A typical redirect if the product you are promoting is related to acne for example might look something like this:

`www.YourSiteName.com/acne`

The benefit of using your own domain name is that you are always in control, you can re-register it for as long as you like and if there is a problem with the hosting all you need to do is get yourself a new host.

Another good thing about having your own domain and hosting is that you can upload all your articles to it and start to build a real website for yourself. It doesn't need to be anything fancy to start with but you might as well do this as you own all these articles that you are writing. Once you start to get some visitors to the site you can apply to Google to be in their AdSense program and start generating another income from these ads.

You only need to do this when you have started making money if you want to keep it 100% free. In the meantime however it is a good idea to disguise your affiliate link. People can and do "steal" commissions by replacing your Clickbank ID with their own so that they get the commission themselves.

A basic way to help overcome this is to use a URL shrinking service like tinyurl.com. You put your long affiliate link in and get an equivalent URL in the form of www.tinyurl.com/xxxxx.

This won't stop determined commission thieves but it will deter the average opportunist.

Better still is a free service called Shrink My Link, at Shrinkmylink.com. This will do all your redirecting for you. You don't need a website and you can add as many redirects as you want. You also have the option of cloaking your urls which means no one will ever see your affiliate link at all to make unauthorized changes. In this case your url will look like: www.shmyl.com/xxxxx.

The best is a service called NameStick It's not free but it is probably the easiest and certainly the quickest solution if you don't want to use your own website. Plus its safer because its paid for. It probably will not disappear on you and ruin all your hard work. Again, when you use free services there is always a risk of losing everything.

It's Not Just Clickbank...

Clickbank is the "Quick Start" way to get going with the method that I've shown you for creating an income out of nothing, but there are many other sites that you can represent as an affiliate.

Almost any kind of business would be glad to have you send them traffic and are prepared to pay for new business that you generate. For example mortgage and satellite TV companies pay very large commissions for signups but the competition is fierce. Casinos and poker sites also pay very well if you have no moral objection to representing them.

A good place to start looking is Commission Junction. The popular notion is that CJ require you to have your own website as part of the signup process, but this is what it says on their site "Publishers must have a valid Web address and email account to complete their applications." I've signed up using a free blog at Blogger.com and was accepted so this is one way to go.

Another option is CJ's own recommendation from their site, use a free site. Here's what they say about that, "If you don't have your own web site or are just getting started, you can obtain a free website by visiting an online free webhosting service such as www.tripod.com

The point is that they want you to get up and running and promote their affiliate programs as quickly as possible, If you are selling goods and earning them money they will not be inclined to go out of their way to close your operation, even if you're running it from a blog.

The difference between Commission Junction (CJ) and Clickbank is that CJ allow you to represent real physical products, whereas Clickbank is strictly for digital downloads only. Commission Junction is the affiliate program for some of the biggest companies in the world and you can find any type of business in here that you would want to promote.

As well as Clickbank and Commission Junction, you can find many sites to partner with all over the internet. Do a search on a topic that you would like to write some articles about and examine the top sites in the search results.

Check on these sites for an affiliate program, most if not all of them will have one. You can usually find the affiliate program by looking at the bottom of the page for a link that says "Affiliates" or "Partner with us" or something similar.

It's up to you to decide what kind of products you write about. You might be driven by the highest rates per sale but often it is better to write about something you know about. You will be able to produce far better articles and you'll write them a whole lot quicker.

Remember each article you write and submit is a potential source of income for many months or even years, so it is better to get as many articles done as quickly as you can. The sooner you write them, the sooner you can put them to work for you.

Here are two things that might make the whole process much easier for you once you've made enough from writing to invest.

1. If you are intimidated with putting your website up, you might like to get a copy of the "Home Typist Kit". Once you follow the step by step training you will have a stable free site to set up your redirects for all your articles and gain an additional affiliate cash flow working independently for a nice man. We will introduce you to a man named James who uses affiliates to do "jobs" that help him promote his real estate and affiliate website businesses online. He needs Blog managers, review writers and more. It certainly will put you a step ahead of the average article writer who is trying to set up their first site and help you increase your income online significantly doing affiliate work online for James. You'll learn new free ways of promoting affiliate programs in general and you will be able to expand the promotion of the affiliate programs you already promote by article.
