Ultimate Sound Recorder is innovative new Windows software that dramatically simplifies the process of recording audio of almost any kind... website welcome messages, interviews, teleseminars, seminars, teleconferences, ceremonies, church services, book readings... you name it!

Ultimate Sound Recorder is an awesome piece of software. Your interface is very intuitive, so there's no learning curve although your instruction manual is very comprehensive.

In no time flat I found myself making recordings and putting them both on CD and turning them into MP3 for download from my website. I also like the fact that I can easily convert these into the perfect size and length for audiotapes.

Thanks for simplifying a task I often struggled with.

The Ultimate Sound Recorder transforms my laptop into a recording studio, which enables me to record books I have written in an audio book format so I can sell them as audio products. I find this prospect very exciting.

The Ultimate Sound Recorder can perform some amazing tasks, such as recording conferences from the Internet or telephone and recording live presentations.

What is more amazing than the advanced technology of the product is Lex Edmonds, the developer of Ultimate Sound Recorder. Behind this outstanding product is a down-to-earth, yet highly intelligent human being, who is eager to help each customer using his software to succeed. Lex Edmonds wants the people who buy Ultimate Sound Recorder to succeed massively, and he is willing to help you do so.
